

Feminist Ethnography: Thinking Through Methodologies, Challenges, and Possibilities

By Dana-Ain Davis, Christa Craven

ROWMAN LITTLEFIELD, United States, 2016. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Reprint. 253 x 176 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book. What is feminist ethnography? What is its history? How can its methods be applied? How is feminist ethnography produced, distributed, and evaluated? How do feminist ethnographers link their findings to broader publics through activism, advocacy, and public policy? Investigating these questions and more, this cross-cultural and interdisciplinary new text employs a problem-based approach to guide readers through the methods, challenges, and possibilities of feminist ethnography. Dana-Ain Davis and Christa Craven tease out the influences of feminist ethnography across a variety of disciplines including women s and gender studies, critical race studies, ethnic studies, education, communications, psychology, sociology, urban studies, and American studies. Feature elements of the text include Essentials (excerpts from key texts in the field), Spotlights (interviews with feminist ethnographers), and suggested assignments and readings. The text concludes with a conversation among contemporary feminist ethnographers about what feminist ethnography looks like today and into the future.
